Get Ready for Your Design Consultation

A quick checklist to help you get the most out of your in-home appointment

Thank you for scheduling your free, in-home design consultation! A few minutes of prep now means a faster, more productive visit and a more accurate quote. Here's what to have ready.

Before Your Consultant Arrives

1. Think Through How You'll Use the Room

____ Three Season use (spring–fall relaxing space) or Four Season use (year-round, heated/cooled room)
____ Mostly for relaxing and entertaining, or a functional space (office, playroom, dining, man cave, she-shed, hot tub room)
____ Bug protection only (screen room) or full glass enclosure

There are no wrong answers — your consultant will help you decide. It just helps to have a starting idea.

2. Gather Helpful Paperwork

____ A copy of your property survey or plot plan, if you have one (not required, but helpful).
____ Any HOA guidelines or architectural approval requirements for your community.
____ Photos or magazine/Pinterest clippings of styles, colors, or layouts you love.

3. Have Your Wish List Ready

____ Must-have features: window and door configurations, heating/cooling, ceiling fans, blinds/shades, lighting, etc.
____ Preferred frame color: white, sandstone, or bronze?
____ A rough budget range or monthly payment goal — financing options will be discussed.

4. Understand the Investment

____ Sunroom and screen room additions are a custom investment into your home — final price depends on the overall size and scope of your project. Things like foundation, connection points to the home, glass type, roof system, and features you choose will have an impact on overall cost.
____ A sunroom adds usable space to your home and can increase your home's value, not just its enjoyment.
____ Your consultant will walk through pricing openly and provide a detailed, written quote.
____ Ask about current specials and low-monthly payment, low-interest financing plans to fit your budget.

There's no obligation to buy at the consultation — it's a free estimate, designed to help you make the right decision for your home.

5. Plan for the Visit Itself

____ Set aside 90 minutes — your consultant will listen to your needs and vision, take measurements, assess your existing space, discuss options, and walk you through 3D design visuals.
____ Have all decision-makers for the project present for the consultation as input from all will ensure the most accurate estimate.

What to Expect During Your Visit

____ A free, in-home (or virtual) design consultation — no obligation.
____ A custom 3D visualization of your new room, inside and out.
____ A detailed walkthrough of frame, roof, and glass options to fit your needs and budget.
____ A clear, written quote before your consultant leaves.
____ Information on our Limited Lifetime Warranty and current financing specials.
